Independent Auditor's Report

Board of Trustees
Harrisburg University of Science and Technology

Report on the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Harrisburg University of Science and Technology (University), which comprise the consolidated statements of financial position as of June 30, 2023, and the related consolidated statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the University as of June 30, 2023, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the University and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Emphasis-of-matter

As discussed in Note 8 to the consolidated financial statements, the University violated certain covenants of its Series 2020 revenue bond agreement at June 30, 2023, primarily as a result of insufficient tuition and contribution revenue. The University has made all required debt service payments through June 30, 2023 and has not received a waiver related to the covenant violations under the terms of the bond. While the holders of those bonds could demand repayment in full, no such demand has been made. The consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustment that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

Prior Period Consolidated Financial Statements

The financial statements of the University as of June 30, 2022 were audited by other auditors whose report dated December 21, 2022 expressed an unmodified opinion on those statements.

Responsibilities of Management for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the University's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the consolidated financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the University's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

Supplementary Information

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as a whole. The financial responsibility supplementary schedule, and supplemental schedule notes as required by the U.S. Department of Education and the accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards, as required by Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards, are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements or to the consolidated financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the supplementary information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated DATE on our consideration of the University's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the University's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 2023 AND 2022

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Operations

Harrisburg University of Science and Technology (the "University" or "HU") is an independent not-for-profit institution located in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. The University is the nation's only comprehensive university that integrates an affiliated college preparatory high school and a business accelerator. The University's academic and research programs in mathematics, science, and technology are designed to meet the needs of the region's youth, workforce, and businesses, and to expand, attract, and create economic opportunities in the region.

The University admitted its first class of students for the Fall 2005 term. In June 2009, the University was accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. The Middle States Commission on Higher Education is an institutional agency recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation.

During the year ended June 30, 2021, the University formed the Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship, Inc. (CIE), which is a wholly owned subsidiary of the University. CIE was formed to provide capital for entrepreneurs on joint ventures the University may wish to pursue.

In October 2022, the University received accreditation approval for a Dubai campus in the United Arab Emirates. In November 2022, the Board of Trustees of the University approved forming a subsidiary of the University in the Dubai International Financial Center to conform to UAE governance requirements to offer degree programs. This campus will be fully operational beginning in January 2024.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the University and its subsidiary, CIE Inc., and the University in the Dubai International Finance Center. All significant intercompany transactions have been eliminated.

Basis of Accounting

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 2023 AND 2022

States of America, with income recognized when earned and expenses recognized when incurred.

Use of Estimates

Management of the University has made a number of estimates and assumptions relating to the reporting of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities to prepare these consolidated financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates. Significant estimates that could ultimately result in changes to amounts reflected in these consolidated financial statements include allowances for uncollectible tuition and fees receivable and contributions receivable, and depreciation of property and equipment. It is at least reasonably possible that a change in estimates could occur in the near term.

Contributions

Contributions received are recorded as net assets without donor restrictions or net assets with donor restrictions, depending on the existence or nature of any donor restrictions.

Contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are recorded as revenues in the period the promise is made. Conditional promises to give are not recognized until the conditions are met or the pledge payments are received. Contributions of assets other than cash are recorded at their estimated fair value. Contributions to be received after one year (including those under the terms of gift annuities and charitable remainder trusts) are discounted at an appropriate discount rate. Amortization of discounts is recorded as additional contribution revenue in accordance with donor-imposed restrictions, if any, on the contributions.

An allowance for uncollectible contributions receivable is provided based on management's judgment including such factors as prior collection history, type of contribution, and nature of the fundraising activity.

Contributions with donor-imposed restrictions are reported as revenues with donor restrictions and are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions when an expense is incurred that satisfies the donor-imposed restriction. Contributions restricted for the acquisition of property and equipment are reported as with donor restrictions revenue. Those contributions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions when restrictions have been met. Unconditional promises to give are considered a passage of time restriction until the pledge is paid, at which time the restriction would be released. Contributed property and equipment is recorded at fair value at the date of donation. If donors stipulate how long the assets must be used, the contributions are recorded as restricted support. In the absence of such stipulations, contributions of property and equipment are recorded as net asset without donor restriction support.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents represent demand deposits and other investments (including overnight repurchase agreements) with original maturities of three months or less, that are not held for endowment or other long-term purposes. The University maintains its cash accounts in various financial institutions.

Bond Funds

Bond funds represent funds originated from bond proceeds that are set aside for payment of interest and principal on the University Revenue Bonds as described in Note 7 and for future capital projects. The terms of the bond agreements require a minimum balance of $4,168,381 for the Series of 2017 and $7,356,750 for the Series of 2020 bonds. The University maintained funds of $4,315,374 and $4,173,684 for the Series of 2017 bonds at June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively, and $7,416,932 and $7,358,838 for the Series of 2020 bonds at June 30, 2023 and 2022, which are in excess of the required balance due to accumulated earnings on these funds. In addition, the University had remaining bond proceeds of $ 38 and $14,286,677 at June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively for future capital projects and $1,677 and $1,354 set aside as capitalized interest to be used for future debt payments at June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Tuition and Fees Receivable

The University provides credit in the normal course of business to its students. It is the University's policy to provide an allowance for future losses on uncollectible tuition and fees receivable based on an evaluation of the underlying account balances, the historical collection experience of the University on such balances, the past due status, and other factors which, in management's judgment, require consideration in estimating doubtful accounts. Actual write-offs of uncollectible accounts are done periodically after collection efforts have been unsuccessful. Accounts receivable for tuition and fees, net were $2,112,304, $1,353,460, and $1,707,674 as of June 30, 2023, June 30, 2022, and July 1, 2021, respectively.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 2023 AND 2022

Investments

Investments in marketable equity securities with readily determinable fair values and all investments in debt securities are valued at their fair values in the Consolidated Statements of Financial Position. Unrealized gains and losses are included in the change in net assets.

Investments of the University are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market, currency, and credit risks. Market risks include global events which could impact the value of investment securities, such as a pandemic or international conflict. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect investment assets reported in the consolidated financial statements.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment values represent cost at date of acquisition, or fair value at date of donation in the case of gifts. The University uses a capitalization threshold of $2,500. Depreciation is recorded using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets as follows:

Buildings and improvements	40 years
Leasehold improvements	5 - 30 years
Furnishings and equipment	5 - 7 years
Library contents	10 years
Computer software	3 years

The cost and accumulated depreciation of property sold or retired is removed from the related asset and accumulated depreciation accounts and any resulting gain or loss is recorded in the period of disposal.

Leases

The University leases locations for classroom instruction, student union space, and miscellaneous equipment. The University determines if an arrangement is a lease at inception. Operating leases are included in operating lease right-of-use (ROU) assets and operating lease liabilities on the statement of financial position. Finance leases are included in financing lease right of use assets, and financing lease liabilities on the statement of financial position.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

ROU assets represent the University's right to use an underlying asset for the lease term and lease liabilities represent the University's obligation to make lease payments arising from the lease. Operating lease ROU assets and liabilities are recognized at commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. As most of the University's leases do not provide an implicit rate, the incremental borrowing rate is used which is based on the information available at commencement date in determining the present value of lease payments. The operating lease ROU asset also includes any lease payments made and excludes lease incentives. The University's lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that they will exercise that option. Lease expense for lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Certain of the University's lease agreements include rental payments based on changes in the consumer price index (CPI). Lease liabilities are not remeasured as a result of changes in CPI instead, changes in the CPI are treated as variable lease payments and are excluded from the measurement of the right-of-use asset and lease liability. The University also does not recognize short-term leases, those leases with initial terms of less than twelve months. These payments are recognized in the period in which the related obligation was incurred. The variable lease cost recognized and disclosed for those leases in 2023 is $568,717.

Additionally, for certain equipment leases, the University applies a portfolio approach to effectively account for the operating lease ROU assets and liabilities.

In evaluating contracts to determine if they qualify as a lease, the University considers factors such as if they have obtained substantially all of the rights to the underlying asset through exclusivity, if they can direct the use of the asset by making decisions about how and for what purpose the asset will be used and if the lessor has substantive substitution rights. This evaluation may require significant judgment.

In determining the discount rate used to measure the right-of-use asset and lease liability, the University uses rates implicit in the lease, or if not readily available, they use their incremental borrowing rate. The incremental borrowing rate is based on an estimated secured rate comprised of a risk-free rate plus a credit spread as secured by the University's assets. Determining a credit spread as secured by the assets may require significant judgment.

Debt Issuance Costs

Debt issue costs and discounts, net of accumulated amortization, are reported as a direct reduction of the obligation to which such costs and discounts relate. Amortization of debt issue costs and discounts is reported as a component of interest expense and is computed using the straight-line method, which is not materially different than the effective interest method.

Deposits and Deferred Revenue

Deposits and deferred revenue related to summer session tuition for the portion of the session occurring after June 30 and all fall session tuition received prior to June 30.

Net Assets

The University reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets: without donor restrictions and with donor restrictions. A description of the two net asset categories follows:

Without Donor Restrictions: Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions. Net assets without donor restrictions may be designated for specific purposes by action of the Board of Trustees.

With Donor Restrictions: Net assets whose use by the University is subject to donor-imposed restrictions that can be fulfilled by actions of the University pursuant to those restrictions or that expire by the passage of time and net assets subject to donor-imposed restrictions that are to be maintained permanently by the University.

Revenues are reported as increases in net assets without donor restrictions unless use of the related assets is limited by donor-imposed restrictions. Expenses are generally reported as decreases in net assets without donor restrictions. Expirations of donor-imposed restrictions that simultaneously increase one class of net assets and decrease another are reported as reclassifications between the applicable classes of net assets.

Advertising Expense

The University expenses advertising costs as incurred. This expense was $1,736,062 and $1,553,535 for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Tax Status

Under provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, Section 501 (c)(3), and the applicable tax regulations of Pennsylvania, the University is exempt from taxes on income other than unrelated business income. The University's policy is to charge penalties and interest to income tax expense as incurred. The University files Form 990, "Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax." The Form 990 is generally subject to examination for a period of three years after the returns are filed.

CIE, Inc. is a corporation that is required to file an annual Form 1120. Any applicable federal income taxes are paid by the corporation.

The University follows generally accepted accounting principles, which prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return, and also provides guidance on derecognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods, disclosure, and transition for income taxes recognized in the University's consolidated financial statements.

Employee retention credit refunds were a government program in response to the COVID-19 pandemic to incentivize companies with a refundable tax credit for maintaining payroll during 2020 and 2021. The University filed amended payroll tax returns during the year ended June 30, 2022 and applied for refunds of payroll taxed previously paid. The University accrued a receivable of $ 2,366,049 in "Other receivables" on the Consolidated Statements of Position and income on the Consolidated Statements of Activities for the year ended June 30, 2022. The University received these funds during fiscal year 2023.

Defined Contribution Pension Plan

The University sponsors a 403(b) pension plan covering substantially all employees. The University may make discretionary contributions to the plan annually. Through January 2016, the plan was funded solely by employee contributions. The University provided matching contributions of 3% through December 31, 2020, and the rate was increased to 7% beginning on January 1, 2021. Contributions by the University to the plan were $1,730,103 and $1,583,767 for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively. Since the plan is a defined contribution plan, the University has no financial obligations to the plan other than making any matching requirements it approves.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 2023 AND 2022

Deferred Compensation Plan

The University also sponsors a 457(f) supplemental deferred compensation plan to provide a deferred compensation plan for the President and certain other selected senior executives. Annual contributions to the plan with respect to the President are based on amounts specified in the President's employment agreement. Annual contributions for the other participants are determined by the President. These contributions are also subject to review and approval by the Executive Committee during their annual review of the compensation package for the President, Provost, and Vice President of Finance. The participants in the plan become 100% vested in the portion attributable to contributions and earnings for each plan year on the third anniversary of the first day of each plan year as long as the participant remains employed by the University. As long as the participant remains employed by the University, the participant becomes 100% vested in their entire account upon the earliest to occur of (1) involuntary termination (other than for "cause"); (2) voluntary termination for "good reason"; (3) age 60; (4) disability; or (5) death. Plan assets and liabilities under the plan at June 30, 2023 were $277,893 and $339,719, respectively. Plan assets and liabilities under the plan at June 30, 2022 were $233,092 and $316,698, respectively.

Revenue Recognition

Generally accepted accounting principles require recognition and disclosure of the recognition of revenues under ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. The sources of revenue for the University are tuition and fees, contributions, government grants, interest and dividends, other sources, auxiliary revenues, and Paycheck Protection Program loan forgiveness, and Employee Retention Credit refunds. Revenue is recognized as earned based on contractual terms, as transactions occur, or as services are provided. All revenues determined to be in the scope of ASC 606 are presented within the Consolidated Statements of Activities and are recognized as performance obligations are met. Contributions, government grants, Paycheck Protection Program loan forgiveness, Employee Retention Credit refunds, interest and dividend income, and unrealized gains/(losses) are recognized on the accrual basis, but these revenues are outside the scope of ASC 606.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 2023 AND 2022

Following is further detail of the various types of revenue the University earns and when it is recognized under ASC 606:

Tuition and Fees: The University recognizes tuition revenue over the applicable period of instruction. The University enters into contracts with students to provide delivery of the academic program and housing during an academic term. Revenue recognition commences once a student begins attending a course.

The University's tuition and fees receivables (contract receivables) represent unconditional rights to consideration from its contracts with students. Students are invoiced and payment is due prior to the start of the term.

Tuition and auxiliary services revenue are considered to be separate performance obligations. The performance obligation for tuition is the delivery of the academic program and the performance obligation for auxiliary services revenue is the University providing housing arrangements during the applicable academic term. The University recognizes tuition and housing revenues over the duration of the academic period to which the charges relate.

The University determines the transaction price based on the standard charges for tuition and housing, reduced by refunds and certain institutional scholarships and aid in accordance with the University's policies for granting such aid. Refunds were approximately 1.31% and 1.27% of the total amount billed for June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

If a student withdraws during the academic term, the student is refunded based on a defined refund schedule and what week the student is in within the academic term. No refunds are awarded after the end of the third week of the academic term. There is no refund liability at June 30, 2023 and 2022.

The University's contract liabilities are reported as deposits and deferred revenue in the Consolidated Statements of Financial Position. Student deposits and deferred revenue in any period represent the excess of tuition, fees, and other student payments received as compared to amounts recognized as revenue in the Consolidated Statements of Activities and are reflected as liabilities in the accompanying Consolidated Statements of Financial Position.

Pending Accounting Standards Updates

The Financial Accounting Standard Board (FASB) has issued Accounting Standards Updates (individually and collectively, ASU) that will become effective in future years as outlined below. Management has not yet determined the impact of these updates on the financial statements.

ASU 2016-13, “Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326): Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments.” These amendments and related amendments require a financial asset (or a group of financial assets) measured at amortized cost basis to be presented at the net amount expected to be collected. This includes loans, debt securities, trade receivables, net investments in leases, off-balance-sheet credit exposures, reinsurance receivables, and any other financial assets not excluded from the scope that have the contractual right to receive cash.

ASU 2021-08, "Business Combinations (Topic 805) Accounting for Contract Assets and Contract Liabilities from Contracts with Customers," is effective for reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2022. The amendments in this update require that an entity (acquirer) recognize and measure contract assets and contract liabilities acquired in a business combination in accordance with Topic 606.

2. Liquidity and Availability

The University regularly monitors liquidity required to meet its operating needs and other contractual commitments, while also striving to maximize the investment of its available funds. The University has various sources of liquidity at its disposal, including cash and cash equivalents.

For purposes of analyzing resources available to meet general expenditures over a 12-month period, the University considers all expenditures related to its ongoing mission related activities as well as the conduct of services undertaken to support those activities to be general expenditures.

In addition to financial assets available to meet general expenditures over the next 12 months, the University operates with a balanced budget and anticipates collecting sufficient revenue to cover general expenditures not covered by donor-restricted resources. Refer to the statement of cash flows which identifies the sources and uses of the University's cash and shows positive cash generated by operations for the years ended June 30, 2022.

The effective interest rate applicable to the discount on unconditional promises to give was 3.56% at June 30, 2023. The pledges are scheduled to be collected as follows, net of the allowance for uncollectible promises to give:

At June 30, 2023, two donors accounted for 89 percent of total promises to give, respectively. Three contributors accounted for approximately 68 percent of total contribution revenue for the year ended June 30, 2023.

On July 1, 2021 the University entered into a convertible promissory note receivable with a medical partners company ("the Company") for the development of an osteopathic medical school at another university. Under the terms of the agreement, advances can be made up to $2,000,000 for 24 months in accordance with milestone events outlined in the agreement with interest accruing on draws at 2.50%. The note is due and payable on demand of the University at any time after the later of 36 months from the drawdown date of the initial advance or the matriculation date, which is the first day of the calendar month following the first day of classes for the medical school.

The note receivable has a conversion feature that allows, at the Company's option, for the outstanding amount to be converted into equity securities on the later of the matriculation date or the initial closing of the Company. In lieu of converting the note, the Company may elect to repay the entire outstanding principal and accrued interest

5. Endowments

The University has one endowment established by a donor to provide investment income for student scholarships. Net assets associated with the endowment are classified and reported as net assets with donor restrictions based on the existence of donor-imposed restrictions.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has not adopted the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act of 2006. Guidance for the administration of endowment funds in Pennsylvania is provided in Act 141, which was passed by the Pennsylvania legislature in 1998. Under Act 141, Pennsylvania not-for-profit organizations are permitted to elect an annual amount that may be used from their endowment funds based on an annual spending rate between 2% and 7%. Act 141 permits the spending of accumulated principal and income from an endowment fund if the amount withdrawn is less than or equal to the annually elected percentage. The University's interpretation of Act 141 classifies capital appreciation earned by the donor-restricted endowment fund investments as with donor restrictions activity. The University intends to preserve the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds, absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, the University classifies as donor restricted net assets the original value of the gifts donated to the endowment and accumulations to the endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund.

The University considers several factors when making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds. These factors include the duration and preservation of the fund, the mission of the University, the purpose of the donor-restricted endowment fund, satisfaction of specific donor instructions, general economic conditions, the possible effect of inflation and deflation, the expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments, and other resources.

The University seeks to achieve the optimal return possible from the endowment investment.

From time to time, the fair value of assets associated with individual donor-restricted endowment funds may fall below the level that the donor requires the organization to retain as a fund of perpetual duration.

Deficiencies of this nature existed in the University's donor-restricted endowment fund, which as an original gift value of $1,200,000, a current fair value of $1,068,010 and a deficiency of $131,990 as of June 30, 2022. As of June 30, 2023 there were no underwater endowments.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 2023 AND 2022

This deficiency resulted from unfavorable market fluctuations that occurred during the year ended June 30, 2022. The University currently does not have a spending policy for this endowment and has not distributed any funds from this endowment.

Endowment assets are invested as follows at June 30:

The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3). Valuation techniques maximize the use of relevant observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described as follows:

Level 1: Inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted prices available in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the organization can access at the measurement date.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 2023 AND 2022

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, such as:

- Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
- Quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets;
- Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability;
- Inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

Level 3: Inputs that are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

A financial instrument's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for instruments measured on a recurring basis at estimated fair value, as well as the general classification of such instruments pursuant to the valuation hierarchy:

Money Market Funds and Mutual Funds

Money Market Funds and Mutual Funds are valued at the daily closing price as reported by the fund. Mutual funds held are open-end mutual funds that are registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. These funds are required to publish their daily net asset value (NAV) and to transact at the price. The mutual funds held are deemed to be actively traded.

Common Equity Securities

Common equity securities are valued at quoted market prices in an active market at daily closing prices.

17. Commitments and Contingencies

Memorandum of Understanding

A memorandum of understanding (MOU) with the Harrisburg School District was executed on October 12, 2006 under which the University agrees to provide fully funded scholarships to each graduate of the SciTech High program attending the University, as long as the graduates agree to remain Harrisburg residents for five years after graduation from the University and attain sufficient academic grades as identified in the agreement.

Contractual Commitment

The University has a Marketing and Recruiting Agreement with a management company under which the University pays a fee to assist in marketing and recruiting international graduate students. Under the terms of the agreement, the University was obligated to pay the management company $6,000,000 per year to recruit first time students and an additional 10% of all program tuition paid by repeat students that were recruited by the management company which was $1,755,600 and $1,475,000 for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Financial Responsibility

34 CFR §668 addresses the requirements for the University to be considered "financially responsible" in order to continue to participate in Title IV Federal Student Aid.

An institution may be provisionally certified for a period up to three complete award years. Continued participation in Title IV Federal Student Aid is subject to ongoing approval by the U. S. Department of Education. The University was notified in January 2023 that its certification was extended for an additional period ending December 31, 2027.

18. Concentrations

The University has deposits at local financial institutions which exceed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation limits at times throughout the year. Management considers this a normal business risk.

Over the last several years, the University has experienced a significant growth in the number of international students enrolled in its graduate programs, primarily in science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) curricula. International students comprised 82.8% and 83.8% of the total student enrollment for the 2022-2023 and 2021-2022 academic years, respectively. All of the international students attending the University reside in the United States on an F-1 student visa.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 2023 AND 2022

It is not possible at this time to predict what specific immigration or visa reforms may be implemented, or to quantify their potential impact on the University or its ability to attract new or retain existing international students. However, a significant drop in enrollment of international students, particularly at the graduate level, would have a material adverse effect on the revenues, operations, and financial condition of the University. The University recognizes such risks and is taking various steps to hedge against them, including the addition of the campus in the United Arab Emirates.

19. Subsequent Events

The University has evaluated events and transactions through the date these consolidated financial statements were available to be issued. Based on the definitions and requirements of generally accepted accounting principles, management has identified the following events that requires recognition or disclosure in the consolidated financial statements: The winding down of the Panama Campus and UMPC pledged to match the RACP grant amount.

Independent Auditor's Reports
In Accordance with Government Auditing Standards

Year Ended June 30, 2023

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting and on Compliance and Other Matters Based on an Audit of Financial Statements Performed in Accordance with Government Auditing Standards

Board of Trustees Harrisburg University of Science and Technology

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the consolidated financial statements of Harrisburg University of Science and Technology (University), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as of June 30, 2023 and the related consolidated statements of activities, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated March 27, 2024. The financial statements of the Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship, Inc. (CIE) and the University in the Dubai International Financial Center were not audited in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and accordingly this report does not include reporting on internal control over financial reporting or instances of reportable noncompliance associated with CIE.

Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the consolidated financial statements, we considered the University's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the consolidated financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the University's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified.

Report on Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the University's consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the financial statements. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the University's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

Independent Auditor's Report on Compliance for Each Major Program and on Internal Control over Compliance Required by the Uniform Guidance

Board of Trustees
Harrisburg University of Sciences and Technology

Report on Compliance for Each Major Federal Program

Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

We have audited the Harrisburg University of Science and Technology (University)'s compliance with the types of compliance requirements identified as subject to audit in the OMB Compliance Supplement that could have a direct and material effect on each of the University's major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2023. The University's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs.

In our opinion, the University complied, in all material respects, with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on each of its major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2023.

Basis for Opinion on Each Major Federal Program

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and the audit requirements of Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance). Our responsibilities under those standards and the Uniform Guidance are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance section of our report.

We are required to be independent of the University and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on compliance for each major federal program. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the University's compliance with the compliance requirements referred to above.

Responsibilities of Management for Compliance

Management is responsible for compliance with the requirements referred to above and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, statutes, regulations, rules, and provisions of contracts or grant agreements applicable to the University's federal programs.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether material noncompliance with the compliance requirements referred to above occurred, whether due to fraud or error, and express an opinion on the University's compliance based on our audit. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, Government Auditing Standards, and the Uniform Guidance will always detect material noncompliance when it exists. The risk of not detecting material noncompliance resulting from fraud is higher than for that resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Noncompliance with the compliance requirements referred to above is considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, it would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user of the report on compliance about the University's compliance with the requirements of each major federal program as a whole.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, Government Auditing Standards, and the Uniform Guidance, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material noncompliance, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the University's compliance with the compliance requirements referred to above and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.
- Obtain an understanding of the University's internal control over compliance relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with the Uniform Guidance, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the University's internal control over compliance. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and any significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in internal control over compliance that we identified during the audit.

Report on Internal Control over Compliance

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Compliance section above and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies in internal control over compliance. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above. However, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies in internal control over compliance may exist that were not identified.

Our audit was not designed for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of the Uniform Guidance. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.
